

Annual McMaster BRAIN BEE

MCMASTER UNIVERSITY
Department of Psychology,
Neuroscience & Behaviour

High School Students!

The Seventh Annual McMaster Brain Bee
is February 16, 2010

The Brain Bee

is an exciting competition for high school students that inspires passion about the brain and neuroscience. You will learn about intelligence, memory, emotions, sensations, movement, stress, aging, sleep, addiction, and many other brain topics.

High schools students from the Hamilton-Halton-Niagara region (and surrounding area) are invited to compete in the 7th Annual McMaster Brain Bee, on February 16, 2010. Participation is a great way to add to your resume, and win great prizes and trophies.

Our champion will compete in the CIHR Canadian National Brain Bee (<http://brainbee.ca>), to be held at McMaster University in the spring of 2010. How exciting to compete for the National title, trophies, cash prizes ($1500 for first prize, $1000 and $500 for 2nd and 3rd prizes) and a summer internship in a neuroscience laboratory for the 1st place winner! The national winner will represent Canada at the International Brain Bee at San Diego, California in the fall of 2010. Great cash prizes, scholarships, and trophies are awarded across the 3 levels of the competition!

We look forward to seeing you in 2010!
